1	With Florida topping the list as the nation's deadliest state for pedestrians in the newly released report Dangerous by Design, you may be wondering what work is being done here at home to turn the alarming statistics around. Four local governments, as well as FDOT, have a goal of zero deaths. Working together through the MPO, they've made safety a top priority for funding new projects. As a result, $38 million in new state and federal grant dollars have recently been allocated to local safety projects such as complete streets and walk/bike facilities. 97	"This is great news for the Tampa Bay area. The Westshore Business District is one of Florida's largest economic centers in Florida and the location of Tampa International Airport. Traffic from around the region converges on this interchange. With the upcoming Howard Frankland Bridge replacement and the recently expanded Veterans Expressway, this improvement is the key to connectivity in the region. I would like to thank the FDOT, the City of Tampa, our neighbors in Pinellas and Pasco counties as well as the residents of Hillsborough for working together to get this interchange fixed." - Commissioner #LesleyMiller. MPO Chair   BOCC Chair.
